

The Spring Festival

chūnjié

春节

Chinese New Year or the Chinese Lunar New Year is the most important of the traditional Chinese holidays. Despite its winter occurrence, in China it is known as the "Spring Festival," the literal translation of the Chinese name Chūn Jié, owing to the difference between Western and traditional Chinese methods for organizing the seasons. The festival begins on the first day of the first month in the traditional Chinese calendar and ends with the "Lantern Festival" which is on the 15th day. Chinese New Year's Eve, a day where Chinese families gather for their annual reunion dinner, is known as Chú Xī or "Eve of the Passing Year."
